INTRODUCTION

Statement of the research problem Status of women in the world, society and family is not a new issue. Women's issue have been the substance of varios dialogues during the past centuries. God is the one who created humans and all creatures. He is only one who knows men and women. He is the only one who givest the exact direction of guidance to them and he is the only one who wants their prosperity and success. To do so he sent to them his messengers of guidance and gave them the books. Prophet mohammad (PBUH) is the last apostle of mercy. His book the holy quran is full of glorius keys of life. Islamic teacings are an exact system which has the elegant and accurate coherency. The basis of all quran teachings is tauhid (oneness of god) all parts of this system are formed on this magnificent principle. Islam clarifies the status of humans in the world, his life. Is aims, and also his duties. And show him the way of guidance and teaches him how to achive his goals. God informs humans about the fixed rules which heputs in the world and teaches him how to get along with them. But in western feministic point of view the highlhy esteemed status of humans is neglected.

They focused on women and and sparated sex and dender. This separation has made a lot of problems for women. This paper is intendend to provide a brief and authentic exposition of what islam stands for in this regard and briefly compare it with the western feministic point of view. Also talk about the damages of feministic beliefs which threaten women, her family, her family and society.

RESULT AND DISCUSION

Essential keys in islamic teachings The following are some essential points about the issues of "status of women in islam" which should be recognized.

1. According to the holy quran humanity is common ground between men and women and understanding this poins has a lot of benefits.
2. Women are human beings, and according to the holy quran humans have a high status in the world. This is ablessing and a gift from god and if they do not avail it is their own fault and they shouldn't put their blame on others.

3. Women can achieve the highest degree of perfection which is bestowed upon human beings whether man or women and obtaining it is based on their own challenges and programming. Their shortcomings in this field leads them to different sorts of damages which all are their own fault.
4. Women are responsible for what they do same as men are. Men and women are both responsible for their actions and they will be asked by god.
5. God expects women to know their own ability toward humanity and have a proper program to activate it.

What is the problem?

Not perceiving each of the aforementioned elements caused different sorts of problem: for instance not knowing women as a human being brings a crisis of gender and sex as it happens in feminism. Apparently feminism wants to defend women's right by claiming that they have been deprived from their right and the only way to gain them is feminism. (C.F Kasson, 2005, PP, 18-19).

What happens in the lives is that they have the wrong road map of their own and the more they stick into it the further they are from the truth and as a result the more they stick into it the further they are from the truth and as a result the new problems arise. Perhaps feminism could solve some problems but new ones appeared for example women's social activities found it's place and equal rights (ERA) could reach to some good points; (E. Marsall, 1991, PP-50-62) but the rate of marriage decreased and just the opposite rate of divorce increased. (C.F. Schalaly, 1997, PP, 90-99) women because of their jobs lose the proper age of marriage and having babies. And those who have children mostly leave them in kindergarten without having enough kindness and love and as a result different sort of misfortunes attack the families. Feminist by ignoring the high dignity of humanity and of individual responsibility of one's own deeds and also neglecting the important role of motherhood and spouse leads to a series of corruption such as pornography, adultery and homosexuality. (Fox-Genovese, 1996, P. 145FF; L. Lukas, 2006, P92).

As feminists do not consider individual responsibilities they keep projecting the problem and condemn either the other ones or the society. Feminist during different waves of their movement condemn the society, the lawmakers, men, history, Adam, waves of their movement condemn the society, the lawmakers, men, history, Adam and Eve and finally God that why they are created as women. The main point is exactly here. They haven't known themselves. They do not pay attention to their highly esteemed dignity as a human being which is bestowed by God to them. They are absolutely heedless to this magnificent point that everybody is the guest of her own deeds i.e. everybody sees the result of her own actions. According to Islam there is a very exact relationship between humans and his actions. Distrusting in God and religion which is one of the outcomes of humanism, makes their misunderstanding worse. As long as this movement was attached to secularism it is got further from the truth. This is what happened to feminism, is getting closer to its collapse. (Davidson, 1988, P200FF; Banditer, 2003, P104) As a matter of fact any movement which opposes the reality of the world would be a destroyer and this is divine rule.

What Islam says

Islam considers men and women as human beings and gives the exact frame for their lives but the most important point is that they have to achieve it by their own will there is no force. God by his messengers showed the way, the right path and clarified the result of any action but it is in your hand to listen to him or not. The way is clear and the leaders of this way (messengers) are known and it is you have to go on the right path.

Differences are the secret of the beauty of the world

The world is a world of differences. Everything has its proper place this is because of God's justice. Male and females are also in their proper place, God doesn't want them to be the other, he wants them to know themselves and their divine nature and practice in a way to activate this divine potentiality which is a gift to humans. According to this view if women know themselves and observe their religious duties in different aspects of their lives they will prosper and fortunality in the Quran view women are an important part of married life. The role of motherhood is a divine opportunity for them. Married life is not an obstacle and doesn't limit them but gives them a chance to improve their hearth and answer their feelings and make a greater step to establish a good society. Prophet Mohammad (P.B.U.H) say: your mother your mother and once again your mother then your father and then comes your relatives.

CONCLUSION

In an islamic system of belief Tauhid (oneness of god) plays the main role. God is absolute just and created the world by his justice, I.e everything in the world is in it's proper place. Male and female are like this. God gave a high dignity to humans and asks them to avail it and manifest it by observing their religious duties. In humans and asks them to avail it and manifestit by observing their religious duties. In this divine view differences of beings are beautiful and everybody is responsible for his/her own
